Winter Memory When I Got My IPod

December 9, 2011

It was Christmas Eve and I was in my house with my cousin.

It got night and we went to sleep. The next morning it was Christmas in Seattle. I went out of my room and we opened our presents.

Then I opened my present and it was an IPod. I screamed because I always wanted that. Then we went to my cousin's house. I took my IPod with me and I heard songs all the way to my cousin's house and then we got there and I played and heard music in my IPod.

Then it got night and we went home and we went to sleep. Then the next morning I woke up and heard more songs from my iPod. I heard music almost the whole day. Then we went to a party and I took my iPod. (I love my iPod.)

My Favorite Things

October 11, 2011

My favorite animals are dogs, dolphins, and birds. My favorite holidays are Halloween, Christmas, Easter, and 4th of July. My favorite colors are green, red, blue, and black. My most favorite color is blue because it reminds me of the blue sky.

The Beach in a Different World

February 17, 2012

It was summer in Seattle, it was July 12 1999. One day there lived two girls named Rosalina and Kelsey and her mom was working at a store. Their mom worked a lot and she came very, very, very late like at 2:00 of the morning.

So one day the girls went to walk and they saw a door in a dark place. They went in, Rosalina was the oldest. She wanted to go in the door. She said,

“Let’s go in Kelsey.” Kelsey went with her. They saw a lot of curtains. They went through the curtains. Kelsey said, “That’s a lot of curtains.”

Then they got there. They saw a big cool place. Rosalina said, “There are weird people.” They saw pink people. It was a pink world. Then a person came. It was a pink person. Then the pink person said, “Come here.” The two girls were scared. Kelsey said, “I’m scared.” So they went in. Then they went through a door with the pink person. Soon they got there.

They saw a pink beach. The water was light pink. There were a lot of pink people. The two girls were amazed. Rosalina looked at her phone to see what time it was. It was time for the dad to come. The dad took care of them until the mom comes. The girls ran home so they wouldn't be late. Then they got home.

Then the dad came. The girls told the dad the story but the dad didn't believe them. So the girls took him to the place. Then they got to the door. Then they went through the curtains. And at last the girls got there. They asked the pink person. The pink person took them to the beach and then the dad believed them. So the dad had an idea. He said "Should we go in the water?" So they had a good time. Then they went home. Then they went to sleep. The next day they forgot about it.

Why the Christmas decorations

January 10, 2012

How long should the Christmas decorations be still up? I think that they should be up three more days because it's the last holiday of the month and the year. But it will take a lot of electricity, but you don't have to turn on the lights so you don't lose electricity.

I like the Christmas decorations because it makes it pretty. I really like the Christmas decorations.

The Pacific Science Center

March 1, 2012

We went to the Pacific Science Center yesterday. We went to the laser show, it was so fun, and we could dance. After the laser show we ate lunch. Then we went exploring. We went to the butterfly exhibit. It was so fun. I love the Pacific Science Center.

The Turkey Escape

November 17, 2011

Once upon a time there was a turkey in Seattle. The turkey was walking. Then a person got the turkey and put it in a cage. The cage door was not locked. Then the turkey saw the cage door open. Then he went out the cage door. Then he saw a window open. He went out the window.

Then a policewoman saw the turkey and went to the person's house and got the man and took him to jail. The policewoman let the turkey go.

The turkey went to his house and took a bath. He was thinking about next year. He planned for next year that he would hide in his house and that he would not get out of his house only when he would get his food. Then the turkey went to sleep. The turkey lived safe and happy.

My Spooky Story

October 31, 2011

Once upon a time a girl and her brother were walking in the woods. They heard a sound but it was just a squeal and they ran and ran all over the woods. Then they heard a other sound and it was a monster, a friendly monster and a dancing monster and a funny monster. The children were so scared. The monster asked them if they wanted to go to a Halloween party.

The children ran and ran and ran. The monster followed them all the way home. The children told their mom the mom got scared too. They went to the room and the monster went away but he saw a window open and that was the room window where the children and the mom the monster got in, and the monster said “Boo” and they screamed and the monster said, “I just want to invite you to a Halloween party” and they said “ok” and they went and they said “This is going to be fun.”

Then they got there and they said “This is fun.” Then they went home and went to sleep. The monster went to sleep with them too. The monster was their guard

My Weekend

March 12, 2012

My weekend was fun. On Saturday I had a sleep over with my friend Eva and I went home at 4:00 P.M. It was so fun. For breakfast we had a doughnut. It was so good. Then we played Monopoly. It was so fun. Then we went to the library and got some books. Then the time passed and I left home.

On Sunday my uncle came to my house. So I was bored and I invited my friend to come and play. It was so fun. Then we had dinner and she went home.
